MEDICINAL

The powder puff may help to hide the ravages of time but it is little to hide the ravages of disease. When the face is disfigured by eruptions, the treatment must go below the surface to the blood, which is corrupt and impure.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disfiguring eruptions which are caused by impure blood. It cures scrofulous sores, erysipelas, boils, pimples, eczema, salt-rheum and other eruptive diseases which impure blood breeds and feeds.

"I was troubled with eczema from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet," writes Mrs. E. H. Quick, of Cass City, Mo., Mich. "I could not walk at times for my skin. I thought there was no help for me at least the doctor said there was none. I went to see friends at Christmas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it at once. For fear that I might neglect it, I had been getting worse all the time. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and used 'All-Healing Salve,' which made a complete cure. It was slow, but sure. I was taking the medicine and was told this; try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before wasting time and money."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

POTTER PALMER DEAD.

Potter Palmer, for nearly half a century one of Chicago's most prominent business men, died last night at his residence on Lake Shore Drive.

The exact cause of Mr. Palmer's death has not yet been determined. He had been suffering for several weeks with a nervous disorder, but as he was able to be about the house his condition was not thought to be serious. When he retired Saturday night he was feeling, if anything, better than for several days. During the night, however, he seemed to lose all his energy and in the morning was unable to leave his room. He gradually grew weaker during the day and at 5:40 p. m. he suffered a sudden collapse, from which he expired. The physicians who were attending Mr. Palmer are puzzled as to the ultimate cause of his death, for he apparently had no organic trouble. Mrs. Palmer and their two sons—Honore and Potter Palmer, Jr.—were with Mr. Palmer when he died.

Potter Palmer had long been recognized as one of the leading spirits of the great young metropolis of the West. Like most of the rich men of Chicago, he began life poor and built his immense fortune from the foundation up. He was born in Rensselaerville, N. Y., in 1826, his father being a farmer. While still a boy he became a clerk in a store, and left that to take a minor position in a bank at Danbury, N. Y. He went into the mercantile business in Chicago, and later had a store on LaSalle street, N. Y. He was the great possibilities of Chicago, and before the civil war he had become a more than a clerk in the leading dry goods establishment in the city. The firm later became Field, Palmer & Leiter, and all three of the partners made millions. Marshall Field today disputes with John Wanamaker the distinction of being the greatest dry goods merchant in the world. Yet Mr. Leiter is one of the wealthiest men in the country, his family is prominent socially, and his daughter, Miss Laura, Lady Curzon, Potter Palmer, the most noted of the trio, retired from the mercantile business in 1887, having already made a fortune, which he invested in real estate. The great fire of 1871 burned up most of his estate, but he had faith in Chicago's future and rebuilt his stores and houses, erecting the Palmer House, then one of the finest hotels in the country. He soon recovered from the blow dealt by the fire, and his fortune has for many years amounted to millions.

In 1870 he married Miss Bertha Moore, of the wealthy Kentucky Horse family, her mother having been a Miss Carr, a descendant of the well known Carr family of Maryland. Mrs. Palmer, though long one of the best known society women in Chicago, first came into national prominence when she was appointed chairman of the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair at Chicago. Her husband gave $200,000 to aid in erecting the Woman's Building, which was the first time women had ever been prominently represented at an exposition. She managed this department of the great fair with so much tact and ability that she was soon numbered among the most prominent American women. Since that time she has added to her prestige by social conquests in Paris and Rome, having received the decoration of the Legion of Honor during the Paris Exposition of 1900. Her sister is the wife of Gen. Fred Grant, who was Minister to Austria during Harrison's administration and who is now in command of a brigade of American troops in the Philippines. Miss Grant married a Russian nobleman, Prince Cantacuzene. Mr. Palmer leaves two sons, Potter Palmer, Jr., and Honore Palmer, both born in the 70s. The Palmers lived in a superb house on the Lake Shore Drive, in Chicago, and also maintained establishments at Newport and Paris.

BUTCHERING HEATHEN.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst, in Madison Square Presbyterian Church, New York, yesterday morning used considerable sarcasm in dealing with the Philistine problem, his sermon being devoted to that topic. Dr. Parkhurst said that the divine authority of Jesus Christ distinctly prohibits any modern Joshua from killing his way into any modern Canaan, and that if the world deems that such things are being done in South Africa and the Philippines are necessary, it has no right to claim Christian sanction for the enterprise and the methods employed, the policy of butchering the heathen differing radically from the policy of giving them the gospel. "Perhaps it is not possible," he said, "to be a Christian, or at least I am not this morning claiming that it is possible. Of course any one who knows the Gospel knows any one who knows that without forsaking his own professed principles Christ would never have shouldered a musket and gone either to the Philippines or to South Africa. But we are quite sure that in order to make headway in a world as rough and pagan as this world is, it is always safe and prudent to do as Christ would have done? It is a question if the principles of Jesus are exactly workable." Again he said: "Demagogues and imperialists are taking no notice of pains in advertising the barbarities practiced in the Philippines because those barbarities help democracy. Republican imperialists have been taking just as much pains to keep those barbarities under cover, because they hurt republicanism."

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops—Jessie Pinkney Hall, Springfield, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by Richard Gibson druggist.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, cold, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure" is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J. W. Fowler, Groverton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly. For sale by R. E. Leadbeater & Sons.
